CONTRACTS & CONSTRUCTI...

My Dear Mamdoh,
Congratulations! I am truly proud of you.
Your success does not come as a surprise to me. For a long time, I have recognised your potential and capabilities. Throughout my professional life, I have worked with professionals from many cultures and disciplines, and early on I learned to recognise true character and competence —qualities that you consistently demonstrate.
I consider myself fortunate to have met you and to have developed a close friendship with you. What I express here, however, goes beyond friendship; it is a sincere recognition of your outstanding capabilities and excellent character. I know this graduation was achieved through great personal effort, in your own time, and despite the significant pressures of work. I am confident that it will be rightly recognised as a remarkable achievement.
You will succeed in whatever endeavours you choose to undertake. You are the type of person who can always “take the message to Garcia” (Elbert Hubbard). I have no doubt that you will succeed wherever you go, and those who have the opportunity to work with you will indeed be fortunate.
I wish you continued success in your career, together with the recognition your achievements truly deserve.
Filipe
